Institution of Fees at Beehives Primitive Campground – Comment Period

The National Park Service (NPS), in accordance with RM 22A, proposes adding a new expanded amenity fee using the Federal Lands Recreation Enhancement Act (FLREA) authority to add a campground fee of $14 to the Beehives Primitive Campground at Ferry Swale, located in Glen Canyon National Recreation Area in Arizona.

Project Description

In 2017, it became apparent that the area known as “the Beehives” had become a popular hiking access point and was being advertised through social media. Heavy visitation and off-road camping was beginning to negatively impact the area, so the park provided six delineated camping sites to address the demand for primitive camping and to prevent resource damage. The camping fee would be used to support visitor services in the park.

Public Comment

Glen Canyon National Recreation Area is holding a public comment period from June 6 – July 24 regarding the introduction of a camping fee of $14 per night at the Beehives Primitive Campground.

The NPS is hosting an open house on July 17, 2019 to answer questions and accept comments from the public regarding the proposed camping fee. The open house will be held at Glen Canyon NRA Headquarters, 691 Scenic View Road, Page, AZ, 86040 from 5:00 – 7:00 p.m.
